This year's CSSPEX theme is Social Sciences and Philosophy Research in Post-Pandemic Era: Ethics, Privacy, and Methods, underscoring the need to equip the participants with more thorough knowledge of the various research methods employed in the disciplines within the domain of the social sciences and philosophy. The workshop speakers and facilitators will be coming from the College of Social Sciences and Philosophy of UP Diliman.

The registration fee for regular participants is Four Thousand Pesos (PHP 4,000) and will cover the certificate of participation, training materials, three lunches, and six snacks for the duration of the training seminar.
