Government Exchange

Parliamentary Process with Lord Peter Lilley

Registration Closing!

Government Exchange is excited to present an immersive and hands-on virtual open course workshop on the Parliamentary Process, delivered directly to your computer, tablet or smartphone by our esteemed trainers and distinguished Member of the House of Lords on Tuesday 10th September 2024.

This workshop is designed to not only give you a deep understanding of the formal legislative process in the UK but also to pull back the curtain and provide you with a real-world understanding of how Parliament actually operate. We will learn about the various stages including formal introductions, second readings, committee stage, the role of the Lords, amendments, and Royal Assent. Moreover, learners will develop practical skills, such as formulating a policy project proposition, and gain insights into the hurdles and nuances involved in crafting new legislation.

The session uniquely combines the expertise of a seasoned trainer on parliamentary processes with the invaluable experience of a serving member of the House of Lords. This session will equip learners with a rare and authentic insight into the inner workings and realities of the UK Parliamentary process, bringing to life the mechanisms that shape the laws of the land.

Distinguished Speakers

- Lord Peter Lilley, Member of the House of Lords & former Shadow Chancellor of the Exchequer
- Government Exchange Trainers

Learning Outcomes

- Gain comprehensive knowledge of the actions and stages involved in legislative creation.
- Understand the role and significance of relevant bodies, such as the Office of the Parliamentary Counsel (OPC), in streamlining the legislative process.

- Develop a regional perspective by understanding how policy-making varies across different parts of the UK.
- Dive into the inner workings of Parliament and garner practical insights into how the legislative process operates in reality.
- Learn about the Policy Cycle: Learn how to adeptly draft, implement, and assess policies.
- Understand the critical role that civil servants play in policy-making, and what exemplary practice entails.
- Grapple with and devise strategies to surmount the challenges that often accompany new legislation.
- Evolve your understanding of how to effectively implement and modernize policies.

Course Feedback

"It was a great session, nicely paced. Very good to hear insight from a former Minister - gave perspective and opportunity for reflection on policy and parliament in a different light. Useful reminder of key elements of policy making and different approaches." Ofwat

Lord Lilley was a very engaging speaker. It was great to be able to ask questions and be part of a small group attending the training. OfGEM

"Really useful to have direct experience from both a civil service and parliamentarians perspective. I found the morning session, particularly the discussion of APPGs very enlightening. I think this is exactly the type of course that academics should do if they want to be able to better engage with policy in their research." University of Cumbria

The guest speaker MP was a great addition to the day. I found the first sessions to be really helpful and informative on Parliament and legislation. Defra

"I wanted to hear the insider view of making legislation which could really only be delivered by someone with the experience and insight that Peter gave us. It was incredibly valuable." Historic England

"Massive thank you for a brilliant workshop today with Lord Lilley." Together

"I feel like the learning objectives and more was achieved." Office of Rail and Road
